Meet COLUMBUS SALLEY

An Educator, Scholar, Author and Businessman for over 20 years, Columbus is a former Elementary, Junior High School and College teacher. He has held high level administrative positions in both the public and private sectors and served as Newark's Executive Superintendent of Schools.

Dr. Salley holds a Masters Degree in Education from Loyola University and a Doctorate in Educational Administration from The University of Pennsylvania. His latest book, "What Color is Your God," is a study of racism and religion in America.

Columbus Salley is married and the father of two children.

To the Residents of the South Ward

The greatest achievement and satisfaction of my life came when I served the school children of Newark and their families as Superintendent of Schools. It is this experience that has prepared me to continue my service to you, the residents of the South Ward, by wanting to represent your interests and goals on the City Council.

I am running for South Ward Councilman because:

- I have the ability to identify and solve problems.
- I care for our youth and our community.
- I know how government functions at all levels.
- I believe in a bright future for South Ward Residents and the city of Newark.

Some of the issues we must address together to improve the quality of life in the South Ward are:

- Lack of Leadership
- Housing
- Education
- Crime
- Social Services
- Health and Safety
- Economic Development
- Capital Improvements
- Transportation
- Recreation

COLUMBUS SALLEY
is a problem solver.
